Conclusion

- The Block C unit is the one I recommend the most. Its unique design, layout, and view make it one of the best choices among all the units. It also performs well in terms of privacy.
 - Block D is our standard three-bedroom layout. This layout takes up the entire corridor in front of the unit, which results in an actual increase of approximately 7 square meters in usable space.
 - But if you're concerned about ROI, I believe Block A will perform the best in that regard. It's sea view significantly increases it's resale value.
